LIPODISSOLVE

 Receive $100-$200 OFF

Do you have fatty areas that you are unable to get rid of even in spite of diet and exercise?

Lipodissolve is the Solution.

We can reduce stubborn fat deposits and sculpt certain areas on your body which are resistant to diet and exercise, such as those in the chin, jowls, abdomen, upper arms, buttocks, and other problem areas, such as back, thighs, and "love handles".

Permanently get rid of unwanted fat and cellulite with micro injections of phosphatidylcholine deoxycholate, or PCDC.

What is PCDC?

Phosphatidylcholine deoxycholate, PCDC, is a naturally occurring enzyme solution, which is administered through a series of microinjections to permanently dissolve unwanted fat.

How Does It Work?

1. Over time, fat cells accumulate around our middle, buttocks, thighs, arms, chin and other areas.
2. To dissolve these fatty pockets, micro injections of PCDC are delivered to the targeted treatment areas.
3. Fat cells absorb the PCDC and become slightly inflamed and then harden. This is normal.
4. Hardened fat cells break down within a few weeks and are excreted through the body.

What results can I expect?

PCDC injections have been proven to provide dramatic body contouring results to a variety of trouble spots including upper and lower abdomen, thighs, buttocks, upper arms, and chin. After treatment, you will notice a difference in inches lost and looser fitting clothing.

Is PCDC safe?

PCDC has been used in various medical applications since the 1950s and has been utilized for cosmetic treatments since the mid 90s. More than 50,000 treatments have been administered internationally under closely monitored conditions with excellent clinical follow-up. No significant adverse effects attributable to the PCDC injections have been identified.

How long is downtime or recovery?

One of the advantages of PCDC microinjections is that it offers an alternative to other more invasive procedures such as liposuction and abdominoplasty. Traditionally after an injection procedure, there is no requirement for bedrest or reduced activity and most patients will resume their normal schedule immediately. The minimal disruption in their daily agenda is the reason most patients find this procedure so attractive.
